Legal, Social and Ethical Dilemmas in Healthcare

Featuring Chiaka Adele, Partner at Scrudder Bass

Chiaka Adele focuses her practice on healthcare issues and employment law. As a member of the firm's medical malpractice team, Ms. Adele acts as lead counsel defending related cases. She has significant first chair experience in workers' compensation claims before the Georgia Board of Workers' Compensation as well as in trial and appellate courts in Georgia and provides expert advice and counsel to clients on various issues, including the FMLA, ADA, Title VII, ADEA and other federal and state laws, employment-related policies, employment contract and work-place trends. She received her Masters of Law from the London School of Economics and her Juris Doctor from Emory University School of Law.
